1. What have I done since the last time reported?

I fixed the bug caused by sayed's incorrect git push method. According to the week7 client meeting, I need to send data by ajax rather than setSessionStroe function. This weekend, I successfully finish the ajax part for degree detail.

2. Self-reflection?

Sending data by ajax means we almost need to rebuild the detail page. Although setSessionStroe is easier, it may cause unknown risks to save all data in the explorer. Ajax is a better way to send data.

3. What is the planned until next time report?

Try to rebuild all detail pages by ajax method.
