

Million team Self-reflection

Kundu Gui

Time: 06/10/2019(Week9)

Role(s): Project Manager/Developer

1. What have I done since the last time reported?

I fixed the bug that the employee logged into the system. Since it was not completely locked, you can enter the employee's operating system by directly entering the link. Now you must be in the login state to operate the data.

I helped make the poster.

I organize meetings and client meetings in the group and record the meeting and organize the meeting records after the meeting.

I sorted out our repository to make it look clearer.

2. Self-reflection?

In the process of making posters, we should conduct more communication within the group.

At the same time, it may not be a good choice to use PowerPoint to make posters (because there are missing materials that are easy to use, and they have some limitations)

Finally, I found that the login system not only needs to have login function, but more importantly, data security. Only authorized login accounts can operate a specific database, which is the meaning of logging in to the system.

3. What is the planned until next time report?

Do the finishing work of the entire project.

Prepare the showcase and AUDIT3 presentations.

Communicate with the client to discuss the end of the project (this semester) .
